JARDINE LLOYD THOMPSON OPENS REINSURANCE LIAISON OFFICE IN TOKYO

London, 21 September 2005: Jardine Lloyd Thompson today announced the opening of its new reinsurance office in Tokyo.

JLT (Japan) Reinsurance Inc is a liaison operation, rather than a transactional broker, offering access to London-headquartered JLT's global reinsurance expertise and markets.

The Japan office is headed by Kimio Kameda, Managing Director of JLT (Japan) Reinsurance Inc.

Mr Alan Griffin, the CEO designate of JLT's reinsurance operation which will be incorporated into a new company in 2006 said:

"Japan is a very important part of the global insurance market and as such, when considering the strategies for the development of JLT Reinsurance, we believe it is necessary to show our commitment early on and are doing so by opening a representative office in the centre of Tokyo. As we continue to enhance our reinsurance capabilities in London and other major centres around the world, we see local communication as a vital ingredient to our success in dealing with the time difference and to ensure information is being delivered in a form that is understood and suitable for our clients' needs.

"We are looking forward to the challenge of becoming a leading supplier of reinsurance broking and associated services to the Japanese insurance community."
