JLT RiskTrack new release offers enhanced usability and increased functionality

Singapore, 2 March 2005 - Jardine Lloyd Thompson (JLT) Asia, a leading provider of risk and insurance solutions, recently announced the new release of its risk profiling and analysis software RISK TRACK version 5.5.

The only data-driven Risk Management Tool available on the market today, RiskTrack has helped many organisations worldwide, irrespective of size or scope of business, to facilitate and review a full range of risks, their internal controls, recovery plans and improvements needed to address the demanding risk management and corporate governance requirements of today.

”The new enhancements on version 5.5 adds breadth and depth to RiskTrack risk management functionality, offering a more powerful database management system and simplified user interface,” says Mark Wood, Operations Director of JLT Asia.

The user-friendly database management system provides a quick and cost-effective way to profile, identify and quantify risks at a glance through one concise model that combines risk, insurance and balance sheet data. In addition, the flexibility of the system allows the data to be easily scaled, manipulated and consolidated for reporting, collaboration and management purposes.

Enhancements to the system's risk management features include real-time risk mapping capability that enables users to better classify their risk according to their severity, frequency and control assessment, visualise and manage trends associated with the volatility of these risk over a period of time.

“It is absolutely critical to work in collaboration with insurers and clients to get the best information available to different clients’ risk profile to the market. RiskTrack offers you the information quickly and effectively.”

The intuitive and easy-to-use interface, allows users to access and navigate RiskTrack functionalities quickly and concentrate their time and effort on mastering their risks instead of the software.

”This new release was built based on JLT’s in-depth understanding of clients’ risk management needs and global risk and insurance expertise. We are confident that it will add value to our clients’ insurance and risk management programmes.”
